YOUNG MAN EXPIRES SUDDENLY AT HOSPITAL

Ralph S. Center Sank Away During Operation—The Deaths.

Sinking away soon after the application of a light anesthetic to permit the performance of a surgical operation designed to relieve intense difficulty in respiration, Ralph Spencer Center, 21 years of age, died at Hope hospital at 11 o'clock today.

The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer H. Center, 1205 Barr street, and had been in failing health for some time. Surgeons attribute his death to general physical conditions, and while deploring it deeply, say that the fatal result could not have been foreseen. When the patient began sinking the proposed operation was abandoned, an incision was made in the trachea and a tube inserted, and for more than two hours physicians labored to restore normal respiration, but the effect was futile.

The deceased was born and reared in Fort Wayne, educated at the Brothers' school and possessed many friends. He was employed as a boiler-maker's apprentice at the Pennsylvania shops, and was able to work up to two weeks ago. Surviving relatives include the parents and five sisters—the Misses June, Catherine, Ruth, Evelyn and Orlan Center. The young man was a member of the Cathedral congregation and of the Young Men's sodality there.

REVENUE AGENTS MAKING DEMANDS

what it purported to be—temperance beer—and safely within the provisions of the law.

Goes Through Many Tests.

It is explained that every brewing of the beverage is subjected to rigorous chemical tests in order to guard against the very condition of which the revenue agents are complaining. A test is made at the brewery, and supplemental tests have been made by Dr. B. W. Rhamby, by the Fort Wayne Testing laboratory, and by eminent Chicago authorities in this work. The policy of the company, it is asserted, has always been to use the very smallest percentage of alcohol possible to keep the beverage from deteriorating, and that it has been as a rule very much below the .50 per cent prescribed as the line of demarcation between non-alcoholic and alcoholic beverages.

It has been suggested that age may have increased the percentage of alcohol in the samples submitted to the government authorities to a point above the standard when it left the brewery, and that this condition may have supplied the basis for the government demand. The brewing company is assisting in every way possible in the investigation, and contends that its effort has always been to keep safely inside the prescribed limit.

BEVERIDGE PLEADS FOR THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

economic problems combined, excepting only the problem of currency and banking. In currency and banking congress has acknowledged that it cannot wisely legislate until a commission shall have spent years in studying our own chaos of financial laws and the monetary systems of other nations.

Congress created the bureau of corporations for this purpose. After years of thorough work by this bureau, no man in any party proposes to destroy it or stop its labors. The same is equally true of the bureau of labor. Congress created the industrial commission to find out certain facts. The report of this commission and those of the interstate commerce commission resulted in the law for the department of commerce and labor, the bureau of corporations, the Elkins law, the rate law, the immigration law and most of the reform laws of the last six or seven years.

Tariff Commission of 1882.

"The tariff commission of 1882 devised and recommended the most important features of our present tariff administration. It originated the appraisers' court; and recommended most of the administrative tariff laws of the treasury department which have since been adopted. Congress provided for the administrative machinery designed by this tariff commission.

"But the tariff commission we ask for now does not go so far as the tariff commission of 1882 went. We are now asking only a commission of experts to find out facts and make classifications. Congress is to fix duties from these facts and adjust them to these classifications.

"A permanent tariff commission is inevitable, because committees of congress cannot do the work. These committees attempt to find out the facts by holding 'hearings.' At these 'hearings' crowds of men representing various industries desirous of special rates of duty, jam the committee rooms. Each of them is carefully prepared upon his own particular business—of necessity he is far better prepared than the whole committee put together. Very few witnesses appear before the committee representing the great body of consumers.

Hearings Are Rushed.

"These hearings are rushed through with all possible speed, because the country's business necessarily waits until the new tariff law is passed. After these brief hearings, the committee is supposed to digest such facts as the bulky volumes of such testimony disclose. No equity court would dare enter a decree in a single case where the testimony took up even half the space of a single volume of the committee hearings, without first referring such testimony to a master in chancery to have it digested and reported.

"Having attempted to sift those voluminous masses of scattered testimony thus hastily taken, the committee next goes to the even harder work of fixing new rates of duty. Before finally fixing them, they are supposed to become thoroughly acquainted with all the other elements, foreign and domestic, already mentioned which should determine those duties. The result of all this is a new tariff.

"But we who are demanding an American tariff commission are asking only a commission which shall find out and digest the facts and make scientific classifications and report both to congress, so that congress may have all this preparatory work done when congress goes to its legitimate work of fixing tariff duties and determining tariff policies."

NEW FACTORY IS COMING TO TOWN

plant of adequate dimensions and increased facilities will be erected.

Option on Site Secured.

Organization of the company has progressed very quietly during the past few days, and it is announced that practically all the stock has been subscribed. An option has been secured on thirty acres of land located immediately south of the Knott-VanArman works, where the plant of the new company will be erected. The main factory building will be 120x140 feet in size, and work is to start as soon as the weather will permit.

It is hoped that the new institution will be ready for business in Fort Wayne by July 1, and those familiar with its prospects regard it as a most important addition to the industrial institutions of Fort Wayne. Mr. Sprankle, who has been most active in bringing the new enterprise to Fort Wayne, is a dredging contractor of large experience, and he says that the machine to be manufactured in this city is absolutely the best of its kind in existence. Some of the patents of the company are extremely valuable. It is proposed to at once invest about $60,000 in plant and equipment, and it is confidently predicted that the business of the company will grow rapidly. Messrs. Karr, Rauch, Anderson and Kitchen are all familiar with the business, and the new Fort Wayne organization will be launched under the most favorable prospects.

RUSSIAN GRAND DUKE DIES.
St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—Grand Duke Vladimir Alexandrovitch died here this evening.

LECTURE TO MEN ONLY

W. L. Clark, of Leamington, Ont., who is touring the United States and Canada in the interest of the "Purity Movement" originated by the New York Y. M. C. A., will lecture to the young men students at the International Business college on Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., and on Sunday, Feb. 21st, at 3:00 p. m., will address an audience at the Railroad Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Clark has gained an enviable reputation in the field in which he is engaged, having filled many chautauqua dates during the season just passed, prominent among which was an engagement at Winona, where he was heard by many Fort Wayne residents. His lecture is endorsed by churches and Young Men's Christian associations generally and he comes here highly recommended by ministers, college men and physicians in all parts of the country. The young men of the city are especially invited to attend either or both lectures, which are free to all, and a cordial invitation is extended to men, young and old, to hear Mr. Clark on Sunday afternoon at the Railroad Y. M. C. A., at 3 o'clock.

TERRIFIC HAVOC OF EARTH SHOCKS

to indicate a tremendous catastrophe in some part of the world.

Luristan is a province of western Persia whose limits are but ill defined. It stretches northeast and southwest some 260 miles, with a mean breadth of about 70 miles and an area of something like 2,000 miles. The surface is for the most part mountainous, but the province contains some naturally fertile plains and low hilly districts which are, however, but little cultivated.

The total population of Luristan is about 320,000, and the people occupy an intermediate position between the Kurds and the Persians but resembling the former more than the latter in speech, temperament, social habits and physical appearance. They are excellent stock-breeders, and their horses and mules are regarded as the best in Persia. Most of the hard work is left to the women, who tend the flocks, till the little land under cultivation, tread out the corn and weave the carpets, black goat-hair tents and horse cloths for which Luristan is famous.

NEW LYRIC MAN HERE.

F. W. Hartman, of Danville, the Manager, But He Withholds Surprise.

The new manager for the Lyric theater arrived in the city this morning at 11:30 o'clock from his home in Danville, Ill., but he refuses to divulge the future policy of the theater, saying that he will make an announcement tomorrow. He is Fred W. Hartman, only a young man, but one who has been in the show business of some kind or other for twenty years. He used to be with a circus troupe and later with Frank Daniels and some of the other stars, but in July last, he took charge of the Lyric theater at Danville, and has made a big success of it.

Mr. Hartman will not state whether he is the sole owner of the theater or not and said this morning that he would not say anything in regard to his future policy until the ground has been looked over. The Lyric will re-open, however, with a matinee next Saturday.

MAYOR ALSO ON PROGRAM.

The report of the arrangement committee last night on the banquet to be given Sunday afternoon by the St. Joe Athletic club, contained an acceptance from Mayor Hosey, who was asked to assist in the opening ceremonies of the occasion. Hon. E. G. Hoffman is to be toastmaster. The club is able to invite more guests this year than ever before, owing to the larger size of the new club house.

Columbia City Post: Mrs. Minnie Oberkiser, who has resided on East Hanna street for a long number of years, will move Wednesday to Fort Wayne, with her family, and will reside at 909 East Washington street. Theodore, one of her sons, is employed in Saul's clothing store; another one, Charles, has been on the Pennsylvania railroad as a brakeman for three months, and a daughter, Miss Pearl, is employed in the Kidd Medical Co.

Mrs. Louis A. Centlivre has been obliged to recall her invitations for Thursday afternoon owing to the illness of the baby, who has bronchitis. Hon. W. H. Eichhorn, of Bluffton, was a visitor in the city today.

BOARD WATCHES THE PETRO CASE AT HEARING

Important as It Will Decide Knotty Saloon Problem.

The hearing of the appeal of Space Petro, an ignorant Roumanian, who applied to the county commissioners for a license to run a saloon in the Rolling mill district and was refused, was watched with much interest by the board this afternoon, as they hope to secure a ruling that will inform them as to whether or not they have any discretion in the matter of granting permits. All of the witnesses were not present and the case went over until tomorrow morning.

Petro has been in the United States six years and has taken out his first papers, but he has never brought his wife to America, can barely read print and is not able to read writing at all. He sends his earnings to his wife in the old country and from the evidence heard the commissioners were of the opinion that he is not fit to have a license and they turned him down.

He appealed and introduced witnesses to show his standing, but he was practically unknown to them except that some of them sold him goods and he paid for them. The decision is important to the board because if it is adverse it will be taken as meaning that they must grant licenses whether they are convinced the applicant is fit or not.

Two Decrees Granted.

In the circuit court Eva Vigus secured a divorce from William H. Vigus.

Judge Heaton, in the superior court, gave Clara Royce a divorce from Charles J. Royce. She charged him with abandonment and failure to keep his marriage vows.

Dismissed Her Case.

After her failure to secure a divorce Mabelle Rathert dismissed her action against John Rathert in the circuit court today as she had no more evidence to offer than was offered at the hearing and upon which Judge O'Rourke held that she was not entitled to a decree. He told them their differences were too trivial and that they ought to live together.

She charged that he was cruel because he told her he ought to have married a German girl. This was caused by the fact that she had been a stenographer prior to her marriage and wanted to attend dances and be gay after she became Mrs. Rathert. He insisted that he still loved his wife and didn't want her divorced from him.

Decree is Granted.

In the superior court Judge Heaton granted Augusta Roembke a divorce from William Roembke and restored her maiden name of Foellinger.

thawing from the rays of the sun, but in most instances the ice clung tenaciously to trees and wires, and a further rise in temperature must come before the conditions are entirely relieved.

Telephone Situation No Better.

In spite of the fact that telephone linemen in the employ of the Home Telephone company have been busily working ever since Saturday in repairing wires, the present situation is little better than at first. Every day new reports of broken wires are sent into the main office balancing all the good work accomplished during the day.

George F. Fox, of the Home Telephone company, in speaking of the situation today, said "With the heavy coat of ice upon them, new reports of broken wires are received every day. All the wires have been put to a great strain and we are surprised at how well the greater portion of them have withstood it. In some instances and especially on our cable leads, the icicles can be seen pointing straight upwards, showing that the wires have been twisted clear around."

"However, we were more fortunate this year than last, for at that time 2,500 phones were out of commission and now we have only between 600 and 700 to repair. In Lakeside there isn't a phone out of order, showing the exceptional construction work on the lines. An entire new system of wiring was put in there during the summer and we hope soon to make the entire city's system fully as substantial."

UNCONSCIOUS FROM SHOCK.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 17.—Physicians are confronted with a peculiar situation in the case of Dora Oswald. The young woman is a roomer at the home of Isaac and Mrs. Davis of North Main street. While using the telephone during the storm Monday night she fell to the floor unconscious, presumably having been shocked. The family used the telephone later in the night without injury.

The young woman did not recover consciousness as expected, but for several hours has remained dead to the world, with set teeth and clinched hands. There are no outward signs of electric burns.

Harry Dinins, former stamp clerk in the postoffice, now residing at Roshoke, was in the city today. Mr. Dinins has completely regained his health.

A party of Fort Wayne Knights of Columbus will go to Dayton Sunday to participate in initiatory work there.

EXECUTIVE MANSION BILL DEFEATED IN SENATE

Measure for Governor's Home Put to Death—Tuesday's Senate Work.

Indianapolis, Feb. 17.—The governor's mansion bill, carrying an appropriation of $60,000, met a crushing defeat in the senate yesterday. There were but five votes in its favor, those of Senators Brady, Clark, Cox, Ferrell and Wood. Thirty-eight votes were cast against it. Bland, Fleming, Forkner, Halleck, Kane, Proctor and Shafer were absent.

An amendment offered by Senator Kistler provided that $20,000 instead of $60,000 be expended. This was lost after considerable discussion, and then the members proceeded unceremoniously to do away with the measure altogether.

Senator Powers spoke against the bill, declaring that the governor of Indiana is not clamoring for a palatial home.

"I am opposed to the appropriation of a single cent," said Senator Powers. "If you get this house you will have to furnish it and have servants in accordance, and where is the governor who would feel at home in such a place? The idea of the governor's mansion didn't originate with the people; it originated with Governor Hanly."

Senator Beal spoke against the bill, as did also Senators Mattingly and Kling.

Senator Cox said the senate had acquired the "killing habit" during the day and the mansion bill was doomed on that account.

Registration Bill Also Killed.

The senate did spend considerable time in killing bills during the day. Senator Clark's registration bill was first on the list. The bill gained the votes of Senators Cox and Bland (republicans) but it still lacked a constitutional majority, the vote being 24 for and 23 against its passage. Senator Clark later announced that he would call the bill up at some future time.

The senate killed another bill by Clark which provided for adding five years to minimum and maximum penalties in felony cases upon second conviction. The vote was 19 to 14.

The McCarty bill authorizing the state university to conduct a medical school at Indianapolis was passed.

Senator Clark's bill providing for additional penalties on conviction of highway robbery was passed with an amendment offered by Senator Yantling. The amendment provides that the minimum sentence shall be five years and the maximum fourteen years. The original bill provided ten to twenty years.

Democrats Talk Economy.

The democrats talked economy again when the committee on agriculture submitted a divided report on Representative Behymer's bill carrying an additional appropriation to the state entomologist for the study of the San Jose scale. Grube and Kistler argued for economy, but they failed to receive the solid support of the democratic members. Senator Powers spoke on behalf of the majority report, which recommended the passage of the bill. Senator Grube signed a minority report, which would eliminate the appropriation of $15,000. His report was tabled.

NO FIGHT SHOWED UP.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 17.—The baseball magnates attending the session of the National and American leagues today got down to business in a way that indicated they intended to leave nothing undone. About the meeting rooms there was an air of expectancy. That all the proceedings would be marked by the utmost harmony was assured from all sides.

"When a scrap is in sight, look for a love feast," was the way one veteran player put it.

President John L. Taylor, of the Boston American league, announced today that he had purchased Pitcher Walters, formerly of St. Louis. Walters last season was sold to St. Paul, but jumped to the San Jose team where he is said to have won twenty-five out of twenty-seven games which he pitched.

Establishment of Credit

A business man's greatest asset is his credit. The life of his business would be snuffed out with its loss. In these days, also, a bad credit record with a bank follows one everywhere. But conversely, a bank can, if it will, greatly help in the establishment of a man's credit. It is the policy of this bank to wholeheartedly lend its aid when it conscientiously can.

MRS. AUGUST SHARPENBERG.

Mr. Maddox, a well known citizen of Fort Wayne, says: "I had eczema in a most annoying form for over twenty years. I tried every remedy I ever heard of with no benefit; in fact they did more harm than good. Dr. Wells cured me in a very satisfactory manner and I recommend his treatment to others."

Answer This Question

When thousands of women say that they have been cured of their ailments by a certain remedy, does this not prove the merit of that remedy?

Thousands of women have written the story of their suffering, and have told how they were freed from it by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—for thirty years these reports have been published all over America.

Without great merit this medicine could never have gained the largest sale of any remedy for woman's ills—never could have become known and prized in nearly every country in the world.

Can any woman let prejudice stand between her and that which will restore her health? If you believe those who have tried it you know this medicine does cure.

Read this letter from a grateful woman, then make up your mind to give Mrs. Pinkham's medicine a chance to cure you.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—“I am a firm believer in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was a great sufferer from organic female troubles for years, and almost despaired of ever being well again. I had bearing-down pains, backache, headache and pains in my abdomen, and tried Mrs. Pinkham's Compound as a last resort. The result was astonishing, and I have used it and advocated it ever since. It is a great boon to expectant mothers. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light so that women would read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings. “My husband joins me in its praise. He has used it for kidney trouble and been entirely cured.”—Mrs. E. A. Bishop, 1915 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

STARTS BRANCH AT PAYNE.

Undertaker N. W. Bloom Will Place John Croy in Charge.

Crucial Test.

She vowed the man she accepted must be brave, and he felt as courageous as Robin Hood.

"But what proof have I of your bravery?" asked this apartment house maid.

"I defy the world!" he shouted gallantly.

"Tut! Tut!" she laughed. "I have heard that before. Go down and defy the janitor and tell him to put some more coal into the furnace. I am almost frozen."

But the young man paled and called for his hat and cane.—Chicago News.

No Consolation.

"Well, it's all over, my boy," sighed Mr. Oldboy, an antiquated bachelor. "Miss De Young has refused me."

"But I suppose she let you down easy by promising to be a sister to you?" rejoined his friend.

"No," replied Oldboy bitterly. "She wouldn't even be a granddaughter to me."—St. Louis Republic.

In Training.

"Are you going to mingle in the gay life of the capital?" asked Mr. Cumrox. "It depends on whether mother and the girls can teach me to eat ice cream with a fork without dropping any on my Sunday shirt bosom."—Washington Star.

Hurts No Feelings.

"One would imagine a boss tailor would be disliked by his men."

"Reason?"

"He often makes cutting remarks."

"Yes, but he makes up for it by making lots of fitting ones."—Kansas City Times.

Lucky Dog.

"My wife is excessively fond of her poodle. Actually I'm beginning to look on it as a sort of a rival to me."

"Say, you're lucky. I'm only a sort of a rival to my wife's poodle."—Kansas City Times.

Doesn't Count.

Mother—Alice, did I not see you kiss Mr. Bruce when you came home from the theater last night?

Alice—Yes, ma, but it was through my veil.—Puck.

Helped Some.

"Where does that guy get all his money?"

"Well, I loaned him a five spot a couple of years ago."—Cleveland Leader.

And Mr. Knox, voting he would never consent, consented. Big William is a powerfully insinuating and tremendously convincing fellow.

The senate has rubiously slain
the bill that was to provide a palatial mansion for the governor of Indiana.
This will deprive the modest city of Indianapolis of another show place,
but it will relieve the present and future governors of Indiana of a lot of embarrassment, financial and otherwise.

News from Indianapolis indicates that the democrats of the senate as a body are in a chaos of doubt concerning the county option repeal bills.
Some, who under the party spur may be brought to support of the measure, would much rather not, while others are firm in their attitude against these bills. The outlook for passage of any sort of bill that will displace county option with any one of the bills now before the senate is not considered bright. When Governor Hanly described the county option law as a live wire, he expressed a view that more than one democrat in the Indiana general assembly fully shares with him.

Advocacy of a general program of tariff reform and of the creation of a permanent tariff commission come from men of all political parties and all business pursuits. They believe the time has come for an intelligent,
scientific and patriotic dealing with the tariff. The movement is non-partisan, though its representatives at Indianapolis doubtless are in the majority republicans. What counsel the standpat contingent in Washington

will take from this great and impressive congress of business men and publicists is problematical. The psychology of standpatism has so far baffled all scientific inquiry.

The biggest theatrical booking agency in the country announces that all morally offensive plays are to be withdrawn from the stage and none of the sort put on hereafter. First statement emanating from any source of authority that there are any morally offensive plays. Have been given to understand right along that plays at which purists turned up their noses
and sniffed were merely dramatic embodiments of very common, very interesting and very rational phases of life given very realistic, very normal
and very enlightening presentation through the medium of the stage. Still the theatrical trust ought to know what it is talking about and what it is doing.

Confronted with a prodigious calamity of administration before his administration began. President-elect Taft can now breathe easier. The threatened calamity has been averted.
Senator Knox has been prevailed upon to accept the portfolio of state and will sit at the right hand of the chief in cabinet sessions. No doubt a very great load has been taken from the mind of the incoming president. Early he picked on the Pennsylvania man
for the premiership and the balance of the cabinet had been framed in the view that the former attorney general would be secretary of state. Mr. Taft can use Mr. Knox, who is urbane, soft-spoken, a politician of exquisite attainments and a lawyer of the very first rank. In other words, a mighty handy man to have in the house.

The Indiana school book law may not be all that is desirable in such a measure, but it is vastly better than none. The effort to repeal it now being promoted in Indianapolis by a powerful lobby of school book interests is a legislative incident the people of the state should closely watch.
The interests back of the measure are so far as Indiana is concerned wholly alien to the state and its welfare. It will be well to keep an eye on the legislators who are interested in the repeal measure and to unmistakably repeat the fellows who vote for it. It may be set down prima facie that any legislator who supports this inequitable bill is pursuing interests personal to himself. He is not consulting the welfare of public education nor keeping in mind the people of Indiana who are patrons of the public schools. In other words—well, watch 'em. The supporter of that bill will not only bear, but needs watching.

Mayor Hoesy and Police Chief An-kenbruck appear to be making progress in their campaign against vicious dives and undesirable saloonists and there is prospect that within a few days two more of the worst class of saloons will either change hands or be closed and their proprietors forced to retire from the business in Fort Wayne. Necessarily this good work proceeds somewhat laboriously and slow, but results are being obtained
and more will be achieved by the simple virtue of keeping at it. There are numerous places in Fort Wayne that the same determined policy can root out. If Mayor Hoesy is resolute and persistent he can give this city much needed riddance of all of the worst of the places that infest the community.
Along with this should be enforced a general policy of law observance. It will pay the city, it will pay the mayor and in the no very distant end it will greatly profit the saloons themselves.

BOMB THROWER AND BLACKMAILER LANDED

Kansas City Business Man
by Clever Ruse Outwits Desperate Criminal.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17.—Lawrence M. Jones, a wealthy dry goods merchant of Kansas City, and his family were gathered into the library of their home yesterday by a man with an automatic revolver and a dynamite bomb who demanded $7,000.

After clever maneuvering, Mr.
Jones managed to gain the man's consent to accompany him and his son to a bank for the funds.

While the trio were about to enter the Jones motor car, Mr. Jones threw himself upon the man from behind and seized him around the chest in such a fashion as to platoon his arms.

At the same time, by a trick he learned when a bok, he kicked the man's feet down under him. Both fell and rolled down the stone steps at the edge of the Jones porch.

Revolver Falls to Explode.

Chester, the son, was upon the intruder before he could recover. The young man seized the man's pistol in one hand just as the trigger was pulled.
The weapon failed to explode.

Mrs. Jones then ran in close and seized the bag containing the bomb, which she carried to the house. An examination of it showed that the matches had ignited, but failed to explode.

Mr. Jones was at breakfast with his wife and son, Chester, yesterday morning at his home, in Troost avenue, when the maid came to say a man was waiting in the hall to see Mr. Jones.

Invites Caller to Library.

Mr. Jones invited the man up to the library on the second floor and offered him a chair. Mr. Jones sat opposite and leaned over to begin the conversation when the stranger drew an automatic pistol and pointed it at him.

"I'll kill you if you make a noise or attempt to summon help," he said in a hoarse voice. "I am a desperate man and I want money. I've got to have $7,000. Now listen:

"This grip is full of dynamite. See this cord around my wrist? It connects with matches which are held between files. The matches are lying in powder and the dynamite is all around
it. If I drop this bag eight inches it will ignite the matches and blow you and me to kingdom come. This house will be blown into a million pieces."
"Well," said Mr. Jones, sparing for time, "of course I don't keep that amount of money lying loose here in the house."

Agrees to Go to Bank.

"I know that," said the man. "You'll have to go to a bank, and I'll stay with you till you place the money in my hands."

Mr. Jones parleyed with the man for half an hour. Mrs. Jones became alarmed at his absence and went to see what was the trouble. As she entered the library the intruder pointed his revolver at her.

"Sit down in that chair and don't move," he said.

Chester Jones' curiosity was aroused by this time and he ascended to the library floor. He carried a revolver in his pocket, but was not expecting such a melodramatic reception as awaited him.

As he entered the doorway his parents' visitor thrust his weapon into the son's face and relieved the young man of his own revolver.

"Now, sit down," he commanded.
"We'll talk business. Don't any one try to leave or cry out, or I'll drop this dynamite."

He opened the bag and showed them the interior. They saw powder and dynamite chopped in small pieces and matches between the files with a cord attached to them.

"I must have the money by 11 o'clock," said the man, after an hour
had passed.

Agrees to Take a Chance.

"I've thought of a better plan," said Jones. "You know if you go into the bank with me carrying that bag it might cause suspicion. Why not go with my son and me to my office at the store? While you stay with me Chester can get the money."

"Well, I'll take a chance. Let's go,"
he said, turning toward Mrs. Jones, who had come upon the scene, "you'll have to go along with us, too, you know."

Then the party started down the staircase, the man with the bag of dynamite and the pistol bringing up the rear. In the lower hallway Mr. Jones and his son stopped and put on their overcoats, the motor car having been ordered by telephone. It was as they passed out that Mr. Jones attacked the man.

The man struggled hard, but the chauffeur had joined his employers and the three men were too much for him. He gave up and lay still. In his pocket a piece of small rope was found.

This rope, he said, was intended for Mr. Jones and was used to bind the man's arms. A telephone call was sent for the police, who came and took the man away. To the police he gave the name of C. H. Garnett.

Garnett is 5 feet 6 inches tall,
weighs 150 pounds, and is 40 years of age. He has tanned skin and dark hair, which appears to have been recently cut short. His eyes are watery, brown and crossed. His ears are set close to his head.

Garnett said he had intended to kill himself after losing his job in Omaha three months ago.

"About ten days ago when my funds

got low," he said, "I decided that the time had come for me to quit this world. I took the revolver I had bought in Omaha and went out on a bridge that spans the Missouri.

Plan to Make Bombs.
"Just as I was about to kill myself
the thought came to me that I still had one more chance—if I could only get a few thousand dollars. The thought then came to me to make an infernal machine.

"I went to a hardware store at Independence and purchased ten sticks of dynamite. Then I decided to construct a box. I believed this would scare my victim. I had no intention of harming any one; I simply wanted money."

"I rented a house in Independence and constructed many chains with which to chain Mr. Jones."

Garnett acknowledged that he had given a fictitious name.

Wouldn't Slug Poor Man.

"I'm not ashamed of my intentions,"
said he. "I wasn't going out to slug
a poor man over the head in a dark alley. I made up my mind to go out to some mansion in broad daylight and make my demands."

A maid at the Jones home corroborated Garnett's statement that he called there last Saturday. Garnett says he planned to make the late J.
K. Burnham, also a wealthy dry goods man, his victim. At the Burnham home he learned that Mr. Burnham had been dead two years.

Following a description furnished
by Garnett, the police late yesterday afternoon found the house where Garnett proposed to imprison Mr. Jones after getting the money. It is a small frame affair in Independence, Mo.

A closet on the second floor of the house was rigged up for the prison.
A large screw ring was set into the wall about four feet from the floor.

A chain with links of one-quarter
of an inch in thickness was attached,
so that about three feet of the chain fell on either side. At each end of the chain was a new lock. These were for Mr. Jones' arms.

On the floor, just inside the door
sill, was the second chain, each end of which bore a lock. Garnett had made a bench that just fitted into the closet. It was of sufficient height so that when the victim sat down he could have been securely chained in place.

The house is in a secluded spot.
Garnett said he proposed to chain Mr.
Jones up and notify Mrs. Jones of her husband's whereabouts by mail and make his escape.

Sluggish Minds.

Brain building is only a matter of nourishment. The brain needs food just as the body does, but, of course, not the same kind.
When the brain becomes exhausted from overwork, worry, lack of sleep, dissipation and excesses, the parts burned up must be restored. Stimulating drugs and alcohol will not do it, they only force the brain to borrow energy; reaction and still greater depression surely follow. When the brain is in this condition the entire nervous system is excited and disturbed. It makes a great effort to keep all the machinery going, but with its deficiency of energy something has to be neglected. The mind must suffer because it would be fatal if the organs stopped.

In correcting this trouble the first essential is to stop nervous disturbance. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer will do this absolutely and perfectly. The next is sleep; for this Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer excels. The first few doses prepare the entire nervous system for profound and refreshing slumber, and from that moment it is only a question of time. Each dose adds little by little the necessary nourishment to the nerves and improvement continues until they are perfectly restored.

No one should endure the simplest form of mental trouble for a single day longer than may be necessary to secure a bottle of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Delays often prove serious in such cases, as great danger lies in the fact that mental trouble develops very fast and the victim may reach such a stage that he lacks decision and will power sufficient to persistently seek relief.

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer does not contain alcohol,
morphine, or any dangerous or habit forming drug,
therefore may be taken with confidence that no
harm will result from its use.

Thought She Would Die.
My nervous system had been severely shocked.
Doctors pronounced it nervous prostration. I suffered extremely from nervous chills, and the least excitement would cause an uncontrollable terror, as though a strong hand had seized my heart and I would die in a minute. Stasis was torture; add to this sleeplessness, and my condition may be imagined. The use of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer completely cured me of this trouble, and today I am absolutely well.

Mrs. G. K. Watts, Brandywine, Va.

Didn't Know Her Own Name.

I cannot say enough in favor of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer for it certainly saved my life. I had peculiar spells that affected my heart so that I would fall wherever I might be. I had a terrible fear at night which I cannot explain. I imagined all kinds of horrible things would happen to me, even that I would die, and would cry out at the least noise.
At one time I was so far gone I could not speak my name or know where I was. My memory left me and I thought I was going crazy. I tried four doctors but got no help. I do believe I would have killed myself if I had not got Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. I took the Vitalizer and am now a different person. Can sleep well and am not afraid of anything and go around the house singing all the time. Am now as well as I ever was in my life.

No. 34

Stop Playing With Fire

Put a pin here.

Note just where we are at in these Talks.

We have pointed out the essential differences, in their chances of business success between CITIES whose officials and heads are controlled by political influences, and COMPANIES whose management is based on ABSOLUTE EF-FICIENCY in work.

We have also quoted freely from the City press to show Public Opinion as to the practical and unfortunate results in Fort Wayne of the politico-civic way of doing a lighting business.

The papers are unanimously agreed.

Assuming that we are all convinced by the results up to date that we, the taxpayers, have been made to dance and must now pay the piper, what next?

It seems to us that we ought to make sure that Fort Wayne's experience is not an exceptional one under such circumstances. That it is not a case of merely local bad luck.

In other words, that there is a principle involved, fatal to just such experiments as Fort Wayne has been led into so foolishly, no matter where applied—from Portland to Podunk.

The only possible good to come out of scorching one's fingers is the lesson of caution it teaches—that caution may save a whole hand some day.

It is the wiser man who doesn't even wait for the cautionary scorching but who takes early precautions against it, on observing other people's experiences with fire.

The fire in this case is MUNICIPAL OPERATION OF LIGHTING PLANTS.

The other fellow's experience with this sort of fire has never been summed up by a more able body of investigators of a single American city than the Lighting Committee of the Civic League of St. Louis. This is from the unanimous report of that committee:

"The successful operation of a lighting plant requires men with more than usual technical skill and training. Such men are not, as a rule, secured for municipal work because of the political influences at work."

The report of the Committee of the National Civic Federation on the ownership and operation of public utilities in American and English cities—the most representative and conclusive report on this subject yet published—says, on this same point:

"Our investigations teach us that no municipal operation is likely to be highly successful that does not provide for, first—an executive manager with full responsibility, holding his position during good behavior; second—exclusion of political influence and personal favoritism from the management of the undertaking. We wish to bring to your consideration the danger here in the United States of turning over these public utilities to the present government of some of our cities—they are not up to the government of British cities. While an increase in the number and importance of municipal functions may have a tendency to induce men of a higher type to become public officials, we do not believe this of itself will accomplish municipal reform. We are unable to recommend municipal ownership as a political panacea."

If the supreme authority on the subject has this to say of simple municipal ownership, what reason had we to expect ANYTHING BUT SCORCH when Fort Wayne undertook MUNICIPAL COMMERCIAL COMPETITION?

HUMAN VAMPIRE IS ARRESTED IN CHICAGO

Fiend Who Preyed on Gary Girls Confesses to a Murder.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 17.—Chicago was rid yesterday of a man, a human vampire, whose liberty threatened the safety of any young girl in the city who might be seeking employment.

The man has confessed to one murder, that of 9-year-old Ella Schneider, whom he attacked while she was carrying lunch to her father, who lives near Gary, Ind. Six young girls have identified him as the man who has enticed and attacked them within the last four months, and the police believe this number will be increased.

The prisoner, William Gagle, was captured by the South Chicago police after weeks of clever detective work. He was turned over to the authorities of Indiana and taken into the jail at crown point. His confession of the murder was made during the afternoon.

Gagle is a tramp. He has not worked steadily in nineteen years. He is audacious and shrewd, as shown by the fact that after his three most atrocious crimes he sought lodging for the night at the nearest police station.

There he accepted the hospitality of the police and watched their continued efforts to obtain some clue to the man who had killed or attacked little girls in the neighborhood. In the morning he would talk with the police about the crime, and then he would depart.

Gagle is known not to have had $5 in his possession at one time in the last six months. When his fortunes were at the lowest he would seek out girls of respectable families and with various stories of giving them employment upon a farm or in a small town induce them with their parents consent, to accompany him.

Leading the girls into the woods on the pretext that it was a short cut to his farm, he would attack them. Some escaped through the timely arrival of other persons upon the scene. Others were not so fortunate.

Some of Gagle's Victims.

The known and confessed crimes and attempts at crime of the man are as follows:

May Humboldt, enticed into lonely neighborhood, near Hammond, Ind., but escaped.

Elsie Kneeged, 17 years old, 10821 Avenue H., induced to accompany him to find work February 6, but became frightened and fled.

Marie Rossi, taken from Dearborn street employment agency and enticed into woods near Hammond, Ind., but escaped.

Ella Schneider, 9 years old, attacked and murdered near Gary, Ind., August 25, 1938.

ASK WELLS TO SHED LIGHT ON 'PHONE MEASURE

"Request" Bill by Allen
County Member Enlists
House Interest.

Indianapolis, Feb. 17.—Representative Wells, of Allen county, could only make motions at his throat when called upon in the house yesterday to make a speech in explanation of his bill giving telephone companies power to purchase smaller companies. The bill was made a special order of business for the morning session. Considerable opposition developed, but the bill was allowed to go to engrossment. It will come up for passage later.

On account of the condition of Wells' throat it was allowed to live, many seeing in the bill as drawn an endless opportunity for the absorption of one company by another.

Efforts in the house to economize by killing bills to create new courts were in vain yesterday except in one instance.

The fact developed in the fights on the several bills that many of the members were bound by trading promises to support certain of the measures.

The situation resulted in much parading of the corridors by members who did not care to vote "yes" when "no" represented their sentiments. This fact was openly charged on the floor of the house.

The situation so worked upon the nerves of Representative Strickland, the democratic caucus chairman, who has been in the foreground with the demand for economy, that he said: "Gentlemen, it makes me so mad I can't talk," and he sat down.

The next time Strickland made a speech it was from manuscript, and was written to defeat the bill for a separate court at Linton. The bill, however, passed over his best effort. In his impromptu speech to stop the extravagance Strickland said:

"It is time to call a halt. Every new court means a new judge, a new clerk, a new bailiff, a new deputy sheriff, a new jail oftentimes and a new court house. I don't want to talk," said Strickland with a rising note of agony in his voice. "I don't want to talk about a thing like this, because when I do I get so mad I can't talk. I want to know where are we running to?"

"Straight into the republican party," said Representative Sweeney (dem.) voicing the alarm in Strickland's query.

Receives Twenty-Seven Bills.

The house received twenty-seven new bills yesterday, passed five and killed three. Two of the bills killed were senate bills. None of the new bills introduced was of importance.

The two senate bills killed were one by Senator Durre and one by Senator McCallum. Senator McCallum's bill was to exempt county and township bonds from taxation. The bill of Senator Durre was to provide that the lowest bidder for road construction or repair may appeal to the circuit court if his bid is rejected by the county commissioners. The bill of Senator McCallum was reported from committee by a majority and minority report, the opinion being divided whether indefinitely to postpone or recommend for passage. The house postponed Senator Durre's bill by unanimous report was recommended for postponement.

Of the five bills passed three were court bills—new court at Linton, separate courts for Clay and Morgan and fixing the time for holding court in Harrison, Crawford and Perry counties. One was the bill introduced by request of the Indianapolis Playgrounds association to empower school trustees to purchase or lease land for public playgrounds, and one to legalize the payment of $3 per day to inside assessors, a bill affecting only first and second-class cities. The vote was 65 to 19.

Almost the entire day was given over to the discussion and debate upon the various court bills. Representative Wise (dem.), author of the bill from Marshall county, made his maiden speech in support of a resolution to make all the court bills a special order of business for next Tuesday. The motion was voted down, on the ground that it would bring a large lobby into the city.

The principal fight of the day was made upon the Bland bill from the senate to create a new court for Linton. The first opposition to the bill was voiced by Representative Strickland. He cited a number of arguments against the bill, stating that Linton was in one end of the county and that all of Sullivan county and nearly three-fourths of Greene county were against the establishment of a court at Linton. He also stated that it would be impossible for the negro to get justice in Linton.

At the conclusion of Strickland's speech Representative Foor, who had fretted under the reading, said that "if speeches were to be sent in to be read on the floor it was time the house suspended business to let all outsiders in on the floor to assist in the discussions."

Strickland Shows Wrath.

Strickland rose in great wrath to reply, "I have brains enough to write my own speeches."

Representative Miller (rep.) openly charged that there was too much trading being done on the various court bills.

"I want the gentleman to state who has been trading," said Representative Zeigler, of Marion county.

"I will do nothing of the sort," said Miller. "As I do not feel at liberty to do so, but I am here to say that legislation is not a thing to be traded or trafficked with. If such practices continue, there is no end to the chicanery which will creep into the business of the state."

Representative Durham (dem.), of Sullivan county, declared that there was decided opposition to the creation of a new court in Sullivan county and that at least 75 per cent of Greene county was against a court at Linton.

Representative Moss, of Greene county, said that the population of Linton and the fact that enough litigation originated there to keep a court busy were sufficient argument.

Representatives Talbott, Behmyer, King and Widor joined in the debate. Talbott (rep.) and Behmyer (dem.) being against the bill and King and Widor (reps.) for it. The bill passed by a vote of 70 to 24.

The bill to establish a separate court for Howard county, which at present shares the circuit with Grant and Tipton counties, was killed by a very close vote, 47 to 46.

This was the first bill upon which Strickland trained his guns. He was joined by Representatives Clore, Mitchell, Gauss, Chrisner and Thornton, all democrats. Representatives Behmyer (dem.), Stewart (rep.), Fitch (rep.) and Davis (dem.), author of the bill, all fought for the passage of the bill. The cry of economy was raised by all those opposing the bill.

The bill of Senator Royce to establish a separate circuit for Clay and Morgan counties was passed by a vote of 72 to 21, very little opposition appearing.

The bill of Representative Sweeney to change the time of holding court in Crawford, Perry and Harrison counties was passed without a dissenting vote, under a suspension of rules.

The bill of Representative Elliott to enable school trustees to make purchases of land for playground purposes passed by a vote of 71 to 13. Representative Gauss, of Marion, opposed the passage vigorously, declaring playgrounds to be a nuisance, where children gathered to yell, swear and raise Cain, to the distraction of any man with a pipe and a desire for quiet. He had a family of twelve, he said, and was used to noise, but not the playground brand.

LUTHER SOCIETY ENTERTAINS.

Young Men Entertain the Young Ladies at Games and Supper.

One of the most enjoyable church society affairs of the season was given on Tuesday evening by the Luther society of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church. The young men of the society were hosts for the evening and royally entertained the young ladies. The fore part of the evening was spent in games. Ladies' first prize was awarded Miss Tillie Helling and Miss Bertha Leider became the recipient of the consolation gift. Harry Stobod secured gent's first prize and Edwin Rippe the consolation. Following the games the young ladies were invited to the dining room in the basement, where the gallant hosts had prepared an elaborate spread. Martin F. Einsiedel was director of the culinary department; Carl H. Stogdill distinguished himself as chef and the tempting edibles he prepared were generously dispensed by Arthur W. Young, George H. Welker, Herman F. Kaede and Victor A. Dink. There was a splendid attendance of the members and the affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The pastor, Rev. H. P. Dannecker, presided at the supper as toastmaster. His characteristic geniality and good humor lent much to the occasion.

A GREAT SERVICE TONIGHT.

Will Mark Close of Evangelistic Meetings at Bethel Church.

The reception of a number of new members, baptismal services, a special address and a fine musical program will mark the close of the evangelistic meetings at Bethel Evangelical church this evening. The pastor, Rev. E. Q. Laudeman, will conduct the service, which promises to be very impressive. During the past three weeks the series of special meetings have been conducted with marked success and despite unfavorable weather conditions, the general attendance has been excellent. Vocal selections this evening will be rendered by Miss Wagner. On Tuesday evening a helpful and instructive sermon on "Peace With God" was delivered by Rev. Laudeman. His effort was in part as follows: "Man in his perverted nature is not at peace with God. He may settle down into a state of intellectual hardening, which brings with it some degree of satisfaction, but it is not the true and abiding peace of being in harmony with his Creator. This true peace is obtained by taking God into account on the working out of life's estimate. "The spiritual element in man's dual nature must be encouraged to exercise, then there will be a peace continuous, progressive and complete." The sermon was heard by a large and attentive congregation.

BAPTIST SERVICES CONTINUE.

Rev. W. E. Hatcher, LL. D., to Remain at Local Church Over Sunday.

So gratifying has been the attendance and so intense the interest manifested in the meetings at the First Baptist church that Rev. W. E. Hatcher, LL. D., the eminent southern preacher, has consented to remain with the local congregation over Sunday. His plans had called for his presence in Louisville on Thursday, but it was the unanimous wish of the Fort Wayne congregation that he spend at least a few days longer here. At the Tuesday evening meeting the attendants were informed that he would accede to their wishes. The pastor, Rev. John F. Vichert, announced also that in response to the numerous requests Dr. Hatcher will repeat the address on John Jasper, which he gave at the meeting of the Ministerial association at the First Presbyterian church Monday morning. The time of the delivery of this address will be announced later.

"The Conversion of the Philippian Jailer" was the theme of an eloquent sermon given at the service last evening by Dr. Hatcher. The prison and the scene when the earthquake shook the walls were vividly depicted. Three things were revealed to the jailer, the goodness of Paul and Silas, the wickedness of his own heart and the possibility of help reaching him. Accordingly he cried, "What must I do to be saved?" And his question was answered simply and sufficiently by the words, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." L. E. Porter rendered a vocal selection at the service and will also be soloist this evening.

PROVED A GREAT SUCCESS.

Sunday School Institute Ends at Third Presbyterian Church.

One of the most successful Sunday school institutes ever held in this city closed on Tuesday evening at the Third Presbyterian church. It was given under the auspices of the City Sunday School association, and despite the unpropitious weather that prevailed during the sessions, they were fairly well attended.

There was a splendid gathering of Sunday school workers and representatives at the closing meeting. "Stories and Story Telling" was the theme of Mrs. Maude J. Baldwin, of Indianapolis, superintendent of the elementary department of the State association. Her effort was excellent and portrayed how effectively a story can be related to children and how readily they will grasp it. Two passages were read by Mrs. Baldwin from the bible and from their stories were formulated, that could not fail to abide in the child's memory much longer than the biblical reference would remain. Two other stories were also cleverly related. Mrs. Baldwin proving that by study a story could be more effectively presented.

Rev. E. Wesley Halpenny, state superintendent of the Sunday School association dwelt at some length on "Sunday Schools and Missions." It was proven that a Sunday school should be broad in its scope, not confining its activities simply within its own circle, the speaker making a plea for the Sunday school to also interest itself in missionary activities. Rev. William P. Shamhart, pastor of the West Creighton Avenue Church and the re-elected president of the City and County association, presided at the meeting.

Rev. Halpenny and Mrs. Baldwin left today for South Bend, where on Friday and Saturday they will participate in the program of the St. Joseph County Sunday School association. Leslie C. Whitcomb is county president and the convention will be attended by many representatives of Sunday school work in the various townships of St. Joseph county. The advent of the state officers in this city has given a marked impetus to Fort Wayne Sunday school work, as a result much good and marked progress will undoubtedly attend the efforts of all concerned.

OFFICERS SAY THAT NO BOUTS WILL BE HELD

WAIVERS ASKED AND ELSTON MAY BE ON TEAM

Promoters Went Ahead Without Consulting the Officials.

If No Other American League Teams Want Him He Will Come.

Sheriff Aaron Reibeholder and Chief of Police Martin H. Ankenbruck have both announced that there will be no boxing bouts at Sengerbund hall tonight under the auspices of the Miami Athletic club or of any other club for that matter, as they will have their men there and arrest any man who shall attempt to enter the ring.

The promoters did not consult the officers of the law before they arranged their program and advertised their mills and the officers on the other hand felt under no obligation to communicate the fact that they would not permit the affair to be pulled off. The hall would have been forbidden from the outset had the club managers talked the matter over with the police before taking any definite steps toward staging their exhibition.

"I like to see a nice clean little boxing bout myself once in a while," said the chief of police, "but the higher authorities don't want them and we are here to obey orders."

This would indicate that orders had come from the governor to stop boxing bouts here although neither of the officials would say so. They have kept the matter very quiet and when the time comes they will step in and stop proceedings. The manner of the officials indicate that the boxing bout question had been discussed between them and that there is a good understanding as to how to handle the situation.

On the other hand it is contended that the statutes permit boxing bouts not to exceed ten rounds in which no decisions are given, but Governor Frank Hanly did not recognize the existence of any such law and he stopped the game. In the latter part of his administration. A few no-decision affairs have been pulled off in Indiana without interference.

In a letter to Owner Claude H. Varnell, of the Fort Wayne team, President Charles A. Comiskey, of the White Sox, announced that he has asked the other American league clubs for waivers on Curt Elston and if none of the managers refuse to waive he will be turned over to Fort Wayne at the draft price of $750 if this figure is satisfactory to the local club.

There will be no hitch on the price and in event a clean bill is allowed on the grounds he will be back in right field for Fort Wayne this season. This helps the management out of a big hole as it is not probable any of the clubs will refuse to give up a claim to Elston and there is little likelihood that he will be taken from the Fort Wayne team.

Both Varnell and Manager Jack Hendricks have been dicker with Comiskey for Elston all winter and a few weeks ago the latter learned that the outfielder was not to be taken along on the trip to the coast. This encouraged the belief that he would be returned here and the wires have been kept hot in an effort to land him. Elston wants to play in Fort Wayne and the whole affair will likely be settled to the entire satisfaction of everybody concerned.

Contracts have been rolling in to the management and about half the men who will compose the spring practice squad have affixed their signatures and are satisfied with the terms offered them. Jack Henry, Tanner and Downing, of the catching squad have signed up and this supplies plenty of material for a first and second bucket, as there is little doubt that Henry will be the mainstay in this department. "Pop" Clark is holding out for some reason or other, probably because he thinks he will be traded, but he will have to come across as the club can get along very nicely whether he signs or not.

Pitchers Harry Corns, Walter Miller, Joe Miller, Harry Hammond, Mat Muldowney, Mike Brosius, E. J. Pfeiffer, Frank Romaine and E. R. Schmidt have signed. Corns will be one of the pitchers and Walter Miller stands a good chance if he wants to keep in condition and work regularly. Joe Miller was with Wheeling at one time but he did not make good because he took no care of himself. He has promised Varnell that he will report in tip-top shape and will stay that way all the year. If he does he will be hard to beat for a place.

Harry Hammond is working hard to take off his flesh and announces that he is in the best of shape. If he is in the form in the spring nobody can skin him out for a place on the staff. Mat Muldowney's chance to get a berth depends upon his control. If he has gotten it back he will be one of the Fort Wayne pitchers and if he hasn't he will not ask to be retained. Mike Brosius was one of the most promising pitchers in the Central league when he was with Terre Haute, but his arm went bad and he has been out of the game two seasons. A return to form will make him a dangerous proposition to the other contestants.

Frank Romaine stands a better chance than any of the youngsters. He was signed and released within a week last season but Manager Hendricks realized he had not given him a good showing and he hustled to get him back into the fold. Pfeiffer and Schmidt are unknown quantities. Van Andia, Alberts and Robertson are the only pitchers who have not signed in their contracts.

Robertson has been out of the game a season and it is not likely he will refuse as his ability to pitch is problematical and he will be glad enough to get the chance. The same applies to Van Andia. The rest of the team is not mean but refuses, although there is little likelihood that he will. Alberts always sulks and his failure to sign is no surprise to the management.

Of the infielders only Pete Kling has signed. Dickey, Donahue, Fremer, Lind and McDemott are still outside the fold. This, of course, does not mean that the management will have trouble with all these men. Donahue and Lind say they are holding out, but they will have to sign sooner or later and the management is not worrying.

Gilmore and Hendricks have signed for the outfield and Elston and Kelly will undoubtedly come across in good time.

College Athletes Complete a Long Walk in Record Time

LEFT TO RIGHT—McCROHAN, BREDEMUS AND HART, AFTER FINISHING THEIR LONG WALK.

New York, Feb. 17.—Fifty-six miles in eighteen hours and fifty-five minutes is the pedestrian record established on last Saturday by three college athletes. The trio of youthful Westons are "Jack" McCrohan, Princeton, 1911, and full back on the "varsity" eleven last fall; John Bredemus, Princeton, 1911, who captured the all-around athletic championship of the United States at Celtic park last Labor day, and "Eddie" Hart, Princeton, 1912, holder of the interscholastic record in the shot put.

The trip was undertaken by the athletes half in a spirit of jest. In the Nassau Inn, at Princeton, N. J., on Friday, Bredemus remarked that he believed he could walk to New York within twenty hours, and when Hart and McCrohan expressed a like confidence they were laughed at. A wager of a dinner on St. Patrick's day was made that they could not accomplish the feat.

On Friday afternoon at twenty-five minutes past 4 o'clock the start was made. The first three and one-half miles, to Kingston, were covered in twenty-eight minutes; the eight-mile mark, at Mousmouth Junction, was passed at five minutes of 6 o'clock, and at twenty minutes of 7 o'clock the three walkers came trudging into Deens, twelve miles from Princeton. Without stopping to rest they pushed on until they arrived at New Brunswick, twenty-three miles from Princeton, at 8 o'clock.

There they rested an hour, after which they renewed their walk, reaching the twenty-eight mile mark, at Metuchen, at twenty-five minutes past 11 o'clock. They trudged into Elizabeth at 6 o'clock in the morning, wet to the skin from the heavy rain which had been falling steadily since they left New Brunswick, nine hours before.

They arrived in Jersey City one hour before noon and hopped one mile to the ferry, where they arrived exhausted at twenty minutes past 11 o'clock. The last mile was accomplished in twenty minutes.

BARON LONG OFFERS BATTLE A BIG RAKE-OFF

Nelson Can Have Half the Gate to Meet Freddie Welsh.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 17.—Battling Nelson and Freddie Welsh may fight here in March, as Baron Long, manager of the Jeffries Athletic club, has offered Nelson the best terms ever given a fighter here, with the exception of the percentages offered to Jeffries for meeting Johnson. He is willing to give Nelson 50 per cent of the gross receipts and two-thirds of the picture money, having received the consent of Freddie Welsh, the British boxer, to meet the champion on any terms. He probably will have to give Welsh 25 per cent.

Telegrams passed between the principals last night.

Nelson first sent word as follows: "Nelson, N. M., Feb. 16.—If Welsh is such a strong card with me, what money will you guarantee me? Wire here."

Welsh also sent a quick response as follows: "New Orleans, Feb. 16.—Will take Nelson on under any old conditions. Go ahead and make your arrangements. Will wait two round-trip tickets."

Baron Long answered Nelson in these terms: "Will give you 50 per cent of gross and two-thirds of the moving pictures for your end. No guarantee."

It is thought here that Nelson will accept.

"No, thank you, I want Admiral Coffee." 11-17

JIMMY GARDNER OUT WITH KNOCK ON BATTLE

Says He is Welter Champion and Shows the Reason Why.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, is riled at the report that Mike (Twinn) Sullivan and Harry Lewis are to box for the welterweight championship at New Orleans, yesterday. His manager, Paddy Minihan, declared that Gardner is welterweight champion of the world, and that neither Sullivan or Lewis has any claim to the championship.

Minihan said: "There is nothing to the claim of either. Gardner is the welterweight champion of the world, and if any one wants to fight for that title he will have to meet Jimmy. Further, more, Gardner is willing to talk business with any man in the country who does not exceed 155 pounds entering the ring. He will meet Bill McKinnon, Hugo Kelly or any of the men in that class, and I am ready to post a forfeit of $500 or $1,000 to guarantee that we mean business."

"Gardner is willing to meet Tommy Quill, of Brockton, at 140 pounds and will post a forfeit for him also. This means black and white boxers—there is no color line for Gardner. First come first served, and the sooner the better."

The west end man is sincere and he says that he will post the money with any reliable sporting man in this city if any of the men see their way clear to do business with him. His challenge is a sweeping one and he should have little difficulty in tying up with some aspiring boxer between 140 and 175 pounds.

Sullivan Leave.

Mike (Twinn) Sullivan, Cambridge, left for the south last night to begin training for his match with Harry Lewis, of Philadelphia, for the welterweight championship of the world. Brother Jack accompanied him as far as New York. The heavier twin will stop there and make an effort to get on matches with the best available middleweights. Mike is slated to clash with Harry Lewis at the Park View Athletic club, February 20, for the championship.

His training will be supervised by Jack Gormerly of the Young Men's Gymnastic club, of New Orleans. Gormerly is a Cambridge box, was covered with beautiful floral offerings from his friends with magnificent piece from the Elks. The participants were Ora Tonkel, Ben Ungemach, Charles Brink, John Klett, George Stang.

STORY CORNER FOR BASEBALL FANS.

The dropping of "Dummys" Taylor by the Giants is probably the hardest official order that McGraw has ever been compelled to issue. There was a feeling between Taylor and the chief of the Giants which was more than ordinary friendship. In account of his rare good humor and his love for fun, coupled with his affinity, Taylor endeavored himself to McGraw, and it is likely that if McGraw had been in a position to do so he would have kept the "Dummy" on his payroll for life. On the other hand Taylor thinks there is no man like McGraw and his forced retirement from the Giants will be the bitterest moment of his life. Taylor has felt for two years that McGraw did more for him than his services really warranted, and when the manager offered to raise the deaf mute pitcher's salary he declined. He is the first ball player on record that ever refused an increase in salary.

For the last two years Taylor's work has not been of the best and he has been used as an extra pitcher. In exhibition games, however, he was a great success, and McGraw kept him for that reason. If no other Taylor is the oldest member of the Giants in point of service. He had been with the club three or four years when McGraw took charge of the team. He began his baseball career at a school for deaf mutes out in Kansas. Later he joined a club in the Southern League. From there he went to the New York State league and was then bought by the New York National league club. Until two years ago Taylor was a winning pitcher. He then began to decline and he will probably have to return to the minors. He may retire from baseball altogether, as he has considerable money and in addition to that he is well qualified to take a position as teacher in one of the deaf mute schools. At one time he held that position. His wife, who is also a deaf mute, teaches in North Carolina.

"What are they doing, Dummys?" asked Harry Tuttle, on his fingers.

"Why, he's telling a naughty story," replied Taylor, as he giggled his fingers slowly and told the story over to himself.

The ladies who form the South Side Bridge club and two visitors, Mrs. Theodore Wester and Mrs. Gus Schlicher, were entertained at luncheon at Anthony Wayne club at half-past 12 o'clock today by Mrs. Charles T. Pidgeon and Mrs. H. O. Bruggerman. There were covers for sixteen. Each table was decorated with a bowl of white hyacinths, jonquills and plumosus.

Mrs. Charles Beall, of East Pontiac street, gave a pretty thimble party this afternoon for Miss Hilda Lane. The guests, who numbered a dozen of Miss Lane's close friends, sewed for her and were then served a delicious supper in the dining room, where apring flowers made an appropriate decoration for the dining table.

Miss Ola Marks, who makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Frank Riblett, will entertain tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Marjorie Olds.

Mrs. Levant Elliott, of New York city, is visiting her sister, Miss Keturah Williams.

Mrs. F. H. Poole entertained the H. M. club this afternoon at her home in South Harrison street.

The Swastika Dancing club will give its third reception and dance tomorrow evening in the Grand dancing academy.

Miss Mayme Nussbaum is in Chicago visiting her sister, Mrs. Nebel, and will, also visit Mrs. Louis E. Finan, of Hyde Park. Mrs. Finan was Miss Laura Rundell, of this city, before her marriage. Miss Margaret Niezer is also visiting Mrs. Finan, who is her cousin.

The marriage of Miss May McAdams, formerly of Kansas, and Theodore Dodane, a well known and popular young business man of this city, will take place this evening at the parsonage of the Church of the Precious Blood. Rev. Father Hummer will officiate and the bride and groom will leave soon after for a wedding trip.

The members of the Tuesday Whist club were entertained by Mrs. George Treman yesterday afternoon and Mrs. Gus Schlicher, of Mattoon, Ill., was the visiting guest. Mrs. Treman used valentines for tally cards and red hearts were a decorative feature of the supper.

Dr. John M. Coulter, of Chicago, spent yesterday with his daughter, Mrs. E. Ralph Yarnelle. Dr. Coulter will spend the winter in Washington, D. C., and his family will be with him. They had planned to spend a year abroad and were passengers on the ill-fated steamer Republic.

Red Raspberry Sherbet

Soak one tablespoonful of gelatine in a quarter of a cup of cold water for twenty minutes, then add a cup and a half of boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add two cups of sugar, one pint red raspberry juice, or part currant and part raspberry, and the juice of two lemons. When cool freeze.

Lemon Ginger Sherbet

This is simply a lemon sherbet with four ounces of candied ginger sliced fine and steeped in with the lemon peel.

Frozen Tea Sherbet

Is also a refreshing ice, and one too seldom used. Make a quart of fine flavored tea in the usual way. Pour off, sweeten to taste, add the juice of a half lemon and the fine sliced peel. Freeze.

White Chocolate Ice Cream

This is simply a rich vanilla cream with chocolate grated coarsely into it at the last moment just before freezing. It will not turn dark like ordinary chocolate, but remains white, with the little speckles of chocolate throughout.

A Dainty Summer Blouse

"How much embroidery!" comments every woman who sees the new waist that arrive from Paris, and the dainty copies of Parisian models made in this country; for never were embroideries used to such an extent as they give promise to be this summer. Incidentally the pieces are of the finest sort of eyelet work, batiste and Swiss edgings and insertions.

This pretty blouse combines two kinds of embroidery with sheer French lawn and inexpensive Valenciennes lace. Large motifs of Venice are laid over the Valenciennes yoke with handsome effect.

Country Parties.
Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Trick, who live south of the city, and their daughter, Alice, entertained friends from the city last evening. The guests were young people from the congregation of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ and the event was held under the auspices of the Loyal Daughters class. An interesting entertainment had been planned and was carried out to the pleasure of all present. There were contests of instrumental and vocal music and a fish pond, in which each young man found a valentine that suggested with whom he should eat his supper. Edson Shamhart won the prize in a word contest and Joe Tomkinson the prize in a song and chair contest. The party made the trip over the Bluffton interurban line and left for their return home on the 11 o'clock car. Those present were Misses Helen Emrick, Nora Ake, Anna Deutschman, Ethel Longworth, Blanch Le Vack, Mary Bruner, Stella Leasure, Della Diffendorfer, Audrey Amos, Bessie Hoff, Winnie Deutschman Grace Diffendorfer and Messrs. Beecher Miller, Garry Meyers, Charles Hoff, Joe Tomkinson, Edson Shamhart, Lyle Brilhart, Frank Griffith, Thomas Houser, George Baker, John Arnold and Vernal Likins.

St. Cecilia Chorus Concert.
Judging from bits of chorus rehearsals that the St. Cecilia chorus is busy holding the concert to be given on Thursday night will be the best thing the chorus has done. Miss Dunlap, of Chicago, who is to be the soloist, is said by those who have heard her sing to have a beautiful voice. The concert will be given in Anthony Wayne club.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.
The last week was an eventful one for Sacred Heart academy. On February 8, music examinations were held in all the classes and from 10 o'clock until 2 the air was resonant with music, both vocal and instrumental. Many points of value were taken by the listeners to be used as future reference, and taken in all the day was a profitable and instructive one. It closed with the reading of the monthly grades, followed by an encouraging talk by Rev. Father Lynn.

The latter part of the week the Catholic students were engaged for three days in following the exercises of retreat conducted by Rev. J. A. Lynn.

"Hook of Holland"
Frank Daniels and Fine Company Give First-Class Entertainment.

"Hook of Holland" with Frank Daniels, at the Majestic last night, proved to be all the good things that had been said of it in advance. The company is large and capable, the costumes unusually pretty and fetching and the staging, not merely a suggestion of the locale where the story of the play is laid, Holland, but is faithful in all particulars, so that a close observance of details was well worth the while.

As for the music, it was so pretty and so out of the run of much of the trash that has been heard here in musical comedies that for the first hour the audience appeared inclined to doubt its own ears, and was chary of applause. But there came a waking up, so by the time one of the most beautiful numbers of the musical score, namely the men's chorus, entitled "Bottles" was sung, it was received with the enthusiasm it deserved. The song was finely rendered and there were many beautiful voices distinguished in the chorus. The piece is full of pretty songs and Miss Christie McDonald had several opportunities to display her sweet voice and graceful and pleasing personality, especially in the lute and the waltz song.

Mr. Daniels has much that is spunk span new in the piece and his admirers got their fill of laughing over his droll antics with a suit of clothes that didn't fit and in much bright chatter that fell from his lips. Mr. Daniels has an able second in fun making in Will Danforth, who as Simon Shlaks had a make up and a pair of eyes that won't be easily forgotten. Mr. Danforth is remembered for his clever work with DeWolf Hopper in "Happyland." Everyone in the company was good. Miss Flossie Hope is captivating and pretty and about the time the audience concluded they couldn't have too much of Miss Hope, Miss Gladys Claire appeared with a fascinating lisp and a charming personality and later Edith Burch and Fleurette De Mar proved such pretty dancers that they had to come in for a share of applause. Of the men—and their singing was remarkably good—William Kent as Schnapps and Arthur Harold, the bandmaster, contribute to the first-class personnel of the production. The fun never flags and there was a charm about the performance that stamps it as way out of the ordinary.

"The Thief."

In the cast which Charles Frohman has selected for the performance of "The Thief," at the Majestic on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, with Thursday matinee, are Charles Dalton, Edward R. Mawson, Margaret Wycherly, Arthur Lawrence, Leonard Ide, Cecil Owen and Mrs. Hillary Bell.

"The Thief" contains truths significantly handled and patently brought home to the spectator, but all by a kind of indirection that proves the artistic ability of its author. There is nothing bare or meagre about "The Thief." Its author is always mindful of his true function as an artist and the proper office of the stage which is to instruct, not after the manner of the school-room, but by depicting real life with men and women in the conflict of human passion, emotions and impulses.

Our Own Stock Company.

Flattering advance sales for Our Own Stock in "What Happened to Jones" go to show the popularity of the company, of Frank Jones, who has the leading role in this farce, and of such laugh producing entertainments. The company will produce this play the rest of the week.

A group of four immensely successful plays happened to strike New York at the same time about twenty years ago. They were "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Young Mrs. Winthrop," "The Wife," and "Men and Women." Our Own Stock company has already presented the first two of these. Manager Rice announces that "The Wife" will be the offering of Our Own Stock company next week, and adds that "Men and Women" will probably be presented in a short time. "The Wife" is from the combined pen and brain of David Belasco and H. C. DeMille.

ACTUAL STARVATION

The Meyer Bros. Drug Co. Give Facts Regarding Dyspepsia.

Although indigestion and dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good looking, good-smelling and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

Dieting cannot cure dyspepsia. If we refuse every article of food that disagrees with us, before long we have nothing left, and find ourselves chronic dyspeptics.

We can cure dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee a cure, and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to everyone who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here in Fort Wayne, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want everyone in Fort Wayne who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and get a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. They are very pleasant to take; they soothe the irritable stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, promote a healthy and natural bowel action, immediately relieve nausea and all stomach irritation, produce perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation, and promote nutrition.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 45c and 85c. Meyer Bros. A NEW USE FOR ANGORA GOATS

Band of Three Thousand of Them to Labor for Permanent Improvement of National Forests.

Three thousand Angora goats herded out on the brush-covered foothills of California are going to do some hard work for Uncle Sam during the coming two years beginning this spring. The experiment will be unique both as a stock-raising proposition and as an engineering and tree culture problem.

The little white animals whose long wool is of such great value are going to be put to no less a task than constructing mile after mile of fire line through the bushy chaparral growth in the national forests, saving much labor by the United States forest service engineers and making way for forestation by merchantable trees. Not the least important feature of the experiment, which for the first two years will be confined to the Lassen forest, is the fact that the task will be performed during the regular grazing by the goats which will not even realize they are doing a valuable work.

Plans for carrying out the work are outlined in a co-operative agreement drawn up by the forest service and the owner of a band of Angora goats grazing on the Lassen national forest of California. The scheme is to run five lines parallel with the contour of the slopes by cutting trails about eighty rods apart. These trails are to serve as guides for the Angoras. They will graze in each direction from the trails, killing it. It is estimated, a strip of brush cut out and grazed by the goats will serve as ideal fire lines in protecting the forest-covered lands lying beyond and around the chaparral areas, and also make a place for reproduction of merchantable trees.

For the past two years the government has been carrying on permanent improvements in the national forests on an extensive scale, and the construction of fire lanes and trails has been one of the most important features of the work. The task of clearing the ground and providing land for good forest trees is, however, perhaps the most important benefit expected to come out of the experiment.

The proposed work of the Angora goats may finally solve the chaparral problem which has been troublesome in the state of California for many years. The bushy chaparral growth chokes out seedlings of valuable commercial trees which may get a start and when dry is one of the worst kinds of fire risks. Often a small blaze which starts in it gains such headway in a few minutes as to travel hundreds of yards and lick into valuable stands of merchantable timber.

The protection to be afforded by the goat-hull fire lanes, therefore, may at last bring relief to the state, which in the past has had its full share of timber loss through destructive forest fires. At the same time, a large amount of chaparral will be killed out to make room for the growth of good trees that produce lumber. If proven successful at the end of two years the work will be carried to national forests in other sections where chaparral has choked out good forest trees and created a dangerous fire risk.

SHOWMAN AND WIFE MAKE UP.
Wallaces Reconciled and Suit Is to Be Withdrawn.

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 17.—The suit filed for divorce from Bernard L. Wallace, treasurer of the Wallace-Hagenbeck circus, by his wife will be dismissed and Mrs. Wallace, who since her separation from her husband has been employed in a local tailor shop as cashier, will return to their home in Peru.

Charges made by Mrs. Wallace against her husband in the divorce complaint were sensational. Incidentally she mentioned that he took other women on auto trips, that he never appeared with his wife in public and that she conducted all his business affairs for him.

As part of the preliminaries to the reconciliation, it is stated, Wallace has built a $50,000 home for her in Peru and that other inducements were offered her to return. Mrs. Wallace, in her complaint, demanded $25,000 alimony. Wallace is president of the Indiana Car and Equipment company.

An address on "Playgrounds" will be given in the Majestic theater some Sunday afternoon early in March by Prof. Graham Taylor, of Chicago, an eminent educator. In view of the public playground movement now in full swing in this city, the address should prove particularly interesting.

BRONCHITIS VICTIM

Little Daughter of Mrs. Hastings of Fitchburg Suffered for Years. Could Not Attend School Winters.

Completely Cured By Vinol.

"For many years my little daughter suffered from bronchitis. Every winter she was out of school more than she was in, until at last I had to take her out of school entirely. We had her out of the best doctors in the city and while he would bring her out of the acute attacks all right, they kept occurring. At last she got so very bad that it did not seem as though she could stand any more spells. Knowing that Vinol had cured my little nephew of congestion of the lungs I decided to try it for my daughter. I did so and could soon see a great difference. She took four bottles in all and it has completely cured her. That was a year ago and she has not had an attack of bronchitis since and seems strong and well." Mrs. J. E. Hastings, Fitchburg, Mass.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains tonic iron together with all of the healing, medicinal and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod livers—but no oil to upset the stomach and retard its work. It does not taste of oil and children love it.

If Vinol fails to benefit any case for which it is recommended we will refund every cent paid us for it. That's our guarantee; we know it will do you good. Meyer Bros. Co., Druggists, Fort Wayne. Three big stores.

OSTEOPATHIC NOTES

For the Education of the Public and the Advancement of Osteopathy, by Dr. Seaman, 221 W. Wayne Street.

Stomach Troubles.

Normal stomach digestion depends on the healthy condition of nerves; coming from the spine between the shoulders; these nerves convey motor impulses to the stomach. Therefore stimulation of these nerves will increase the activity of the stomach. A continued irritation to these nerves will cause dilatation of the blood vessels, which is followed by congestion of the stomach and liver. This congestion of blood in the stomach produces an increase in the amount of gastric juice, but its quality is impaired, a catarrhal condition exists. The increased amount of gastric juice counteracts the acid of the stomach and the gastric juice becomes alkaline in reaction. Pepsin acts with difficulty in an alkaline medium and as a result the food you eat does not digest—it ferments, producing gas, heart burn and dyspepsia in all its varying forms: Ulceration, gastritis, gastroptosis, dilatation, catarrh, constipation, nausea and vomiting. These stomach and bowel disorders are due to the constant irritation of those nerves which go to and control the function of the stomach and bowels. This has been practically proven in three ways:

- (1)—By physiological experiments on lower animals.
- (2)—By dissection.
- (3)—Most important of all, clinically, by taking patients having these diseases, removing the irritation from those nerves and permanently curing them.

Regarding your own case see Dr. Seaman.

George Goeglein, sr., is confined to his home in St. Joe township suffering from a badly wrenched back. He injured himself several days ago by slipping down the front steps and at first it was thought his injuries were considerably more serious than they have since been found to be.

THE SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

THE PENNSYLVANIA WIRES COVERED BY TON OF ICE

One Strand Between Two Poles Carried 168 Pounds.

The icy covering of one of the Pennsylvania telegraph wires in the center of the storm area was carefully gathered up yesterday and it weighed 168 pounds. There are twelve wires on the poles and if each carried as much ice as the one tested, the total weight between two poles, 145 feet, was 2,016 pounds, not counting the weight of the wires. The accumulation of ice on the wires, it was said, was almost double that of any previous storm in the history of the Pennsylvania, and when this fact is taken into consideration, it does not seem so surprising that the poles should give way under their heavy burdens. The situation on all the Fort Wayne lines is greatly improved today and the warm weather promised by the weather bureau will soon clear the wires and poles of ice and enable the men engaged in making repairs to progress more rapidly.

ENGINE DERAILED.

Accident at Bricketon Delays Nickel Plate Train.

No. 5, the westbound Nickel Plate passenger train, due in Fort Wayne at 2 o'clock this morning, reached the city at 11:30 o'clock. The delay was due to a little accident at Bricketon, Ohio, a small station about thirty miles east of this city. There the snow and ice caused the engine to leave the rails at the intersection of a siding and the "big locomotive got cross-wise, blocking both tracks. The wreck crew was called to the scene, but on account of the position occupied by the locomotive, its removal was difficult and slow. The loss was practically nothing, but many previous accidents, some of them of far more consequence, did not attract the attention nor cause inconvenience to so great a number of people as this one. The paymaster came here last night with instructions to receive from No. 5 a big lot of cash with which to complete the distribution of wages for February. Had the passenger train been on time, the employees of the company at this place would have received their earnings early in the day, but on account of the accident, they had to wait several hours. They did it with rather poor grace. The Nickel Plate is fast reaching normal conditions and trains are now getting over the line on nearly schedule time. Those from the west are making the schedule runs, while those from the east are getting into terminal stations only a few minutes behind time.

FRANK PENOYER DEAD.

Was Once Well Known Pennsylvania Engineer.

Relatives and friends in this city have been advised of the death of Frank Penoyer, which took place in Kalamazoo last night. The telegram simply conveyed the announcement of his death and did not give details. The deceased was a resident of this city many years and was employed first as fireman and later as engineer on the Pennsylvania until a few years ago, when he resigned and went to Kalamazoo to reside. It is not positively known whether he was railroad or not recently, but he was employed on one of the Kalamazoo roads for a year or two after he left this city. Henry Jones, the retired Pennsylvania engineer, is an uncle and Engineers Joseph Leeper and P. H. Ryan, also of the Pennsylvania, are brothers-in-law to the deceased. All have gone to Kalamazoo. The remains may be brought here for interment.

Special Car Takes Party of Fifty There.

Twenty-five members of Friendship Lodge, No. 70, International Association of Machinists, with their wives or sweethearts, attended the second annual ball of the Auburn lodge last night and had one of the best times of their lives. The trip to Auburn was made on a special interurban car, which left Fort Wayne at 7:30 o'clock last evening, and returning, left Auburn at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The dance program ended in time for the Fort Wayne party to take supper provided for them just before leaving Auburn for this city.

BIGGER FLYER TRAIN.

Pennsy Adds Another Compartment Car to "Special."

The Pennsylvania "Special," the eighteen-hour New York to Chicago train, is now made up of six cars, a compartment car having been recently added. As a result of this addition the "Special" now has two engines, one not being able to handle the train on schedule time. The "Special's" cars are said to be much heavier than common passenger cars, the weight of the six being equal to the weight of twelve ordinary passenger cars.

Pennsy Doing Good Business Despite the Storm.

Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapiesin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eruptions of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the Stomach and Intestines, and, besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapiesin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table and what you eat will do you good.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 17.—Many stocks started today at unchanged prices from last night and there were no wide variations; decline of 1/8 in Adams' registered Copper was the most notable change.

The market became weak as a result of liquidation in the metal stocks. After declines in the neighborhood of a point had been recorded in a handful of stocks, speculation became dull, and revived and grew firmer when Atchison began to show strength.

Prices drifted backward and forward on insignificant transactions with no pronounced tendency. Bonds were firm.

Dullness was the feature of the midday market. None of the usually active stocks varied more than 1/4, and many stocks were not dealt in at all.

Aside from a few transactions in Atchison which scored a further advance to 10 1/2, speculation was practically at a standstill.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Feb. 17.—Close: Prime mercantile paper, 3 1/4@4 1/4c.

Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 48.90@48.05 for sixty day bills and at 48 for demand.

Bar silver, 51 1/2c; Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

Money on call, steady, at 1 1/4@2 1/4c; ruling rate, 2 1/4c; closing bid, 2 1/4c; offered at 2 1/2c.

Time loans, very quiet and steady; sixty days, 2 1/4@2 1/2c; ninety days, 2 1/4@2 1/2c; six months, 3 1/4@4 1/4c.

COAL MARKET.

Hocking Valley, $4.25; Massillon, $5.25; Jackson, $5.50; Pocomantas, $5.00; forked, $5.00; Pocantons, $5.00; Canvel, $6.00; coke, $6.00; West Virginia, $4.50; Indiana, $4.00; anthracite, cash, $7.50; time, $7.75.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

The expected weakness in the egg market today did not develop and instead it assumed a firm aspect at 25 1/2c dozen.

There were good demands for wholesale produce in potatoes, chickens and ducks and geese. All the prices with the exception of that on butter remained the same, the latter article dropping to 17 1/2c per pound, because of the heavier receipts.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of G. H. Crouse & Co., this morning: "There will probably be a good market tomorrow for the demands are bound to develop and slacking is good for the farmers. We look for no changes in prices."

The price on wheat went to $1.13 per bushel this morning, but all the other markets remained firm.

FORT WAYNE MARKETS.

The prevailing prices on Fort Wayne wholesale markets today were as follows: Barr Street—Wholesale.
Wheat—$1.13 bu.
Corn—60 1/2c bu.
Oats—52 1/2c bu.
Barley—55c bu.
Rye—72c bu.
Butter—Creamery, 20c lb; process, 26c lb; prints, 22c lb; dairy, 17 1/2c lb.
Eggs—25 1/2c doz; fresh candied eggs, 25 1/2c doz.

The greatest value in the Classified Columns of The Sentinel is in the fact that the best positions and the best employees are secured through these columns. There may not be the kind of a position that you want advertised every day, but when the kind of a position that you are looking for is advertised, you are certain that it will be announced in The Sentinel. The clever young man and woman know the value of The Sentinel. It is the paper they read.

Employers have been quick to learn this, and now when they want the best employees to be obtained in Fort Wayne, they either answer the Situation Wanted advertisements in The Sentinel or they put one of their own advertisements in the Help Wanted Columns.

IT WAS EXPERT TESTIMONY

And Both Physicians and Attorneys Enjoyed Talks Last Night.

The large and enthusiastic gathering of physicians and law men in the assembly room of the court house last evening and the manifold interest manifested in everything that was said
evenly balanced the expert testimony talks given by Prof. Harold N. Moyer,
of the Chicago Rush Medical school,
and Judge Allen Zollars, of this city.
Prof. Moyer's view was that of a doctor and he even went so far as to lay the blame of the only fault in the judicial system now in vogue at the feet of the physicians themselves, calling attention to the fact that doctors in too many cases do not give enough careful study to the question before the bar, and while sincere in their answers, sometimes lead to a wrong belief.

Judge Zollars took the stand of the bar man and he paid a high tribute to the men capable of giving medical expert testimony. Judge Zollars declared that in the medical profession,
as well as in any other, there were men who were not always unquestionable in their motives, but that this was the case only in the exception.

A COMMON COLD.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by all druggists.
